Former CIA agent Frank Snapp is working on a proposed weekly series for CBS called, naturally, "The Agency." . . . When seven-time Emmy winner Ed Asner ("Lou Grant") guest stars in an episode of NBC's "Highway to Heaven," he'll play—get this—Harold, an angel on probation. Jonathan (Michael Landon) and Mark (Victor French) help him earn his wings before it's too late. . . . The producers of ABC's upcoming "Redd Foxx Show" are talking to Bob Dylan about playing a blind street musician on the sitcom.
